

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

To whom it may concern,

I am writing this letter for Shari Rightmer, Executive Director of Laborers of the Harvest, in relation to the contributions that have been provided to Vallarta Supermarkets regarding Senate Bill 1383. I have worked alongside Shari Rightmer for 3 years and have had the opportunity to observe her train and develop Vallarta Supermarkets' team members to provide adequate amounts of edible foods for the central Valley in California.

Shari has also created training programs and documents for organizations in compliance with SB1383 Food Recovery, created training programs for Grocery Stores, created SB1383 Educational Videos funded by CalRecycle for Grocery Stores, and is a speaker and Consultant for topics regarding understanding and compliance of SB1383 Edible Food Recovery to Jurisdictions, Grocery Stores (EFG), and Food Recovery Organizations.

Shari Rightmer is a highly motivated, dedicated individual who possesses a strong work ethic and a commitment to excellence. She is an effective communicator and works well in a team environment. Her skills and qualifications make her an asset to any organization.

Shari Rightmer has demonstrated a vast variety of understanding in Senate Bill 1383, food recovery, and understands the needs of the less fortunate in a number of communities. She has the ability to adjust to challenging situations with poise and professionalism. She possesses the ability to think creatively and develop innovative solutions to problems. Shari Rightmer has an exceptional ability to prioritize and manage tasks, and consistently meets or exceeds goals and expectations.

I wholeheartedly recommend Shari Rightmer as she is an asset to Laborers of the Harvest and has provided exceptional help to Vallarta Supermarkets regarding Senate Bill 1383. She is a remarkable individual who will make a positive impact in any organization or environment they are in.

Best,
Edgar Villasenor
